

Online Training : Business Continuity Planning (BCP)

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Risk Management(RM) identifies and classifies the inherent risks comprehensively that an organization faces. The key business processes in use are identified and addressed at a high level, to incorporate them into the future planning process. It will start with identification, analysis both qualitative and quantitative, risk scoring, risk rating, risk response (including the action plan and controls), risk register (Key Risk Indicator inclusive) up to risk profile.

ISO 31000 on Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) and ISACA RiskITwill be utilized as the standard and framework throughout this respective session, let alone the sneak peek of Business Continuity Management System (BCMS) capitalizing ISO 22301.

Moreover, the course will be started with RM, Operational Risk Management (ORM), BCP, DRP, Business Impact Analysis (BIA), then accompanied with how to develop, implement, monitor and control through test, review, and update our BCP in high-level perspectives.
