

Internal Audit Quality Assurance Review

The International Professional Practices Framework (IPPF) - dari the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA) mengharuskan Internal audit departemen melakukan proses review kesesuaian antara semua aktifitas dengan Professional Standards dan Code of ethics minimum setiap lima tahun sekali.

Tujuan dari review ini adalah agar internal auditor lebih profesional dan efektif dalam melaporkan kepastian dan memberikan konsultasi kepada dewan direksi, eksekutif senior perusahaan dan pihak lain yang berkepentingan.

Selain itu pelaksanaan review penilaian tersebut dapat memfasilitasi proses transformasi departemen internal audit menjadi mitra bisnis yang lebih strategis selain memberikan nilai tambah kepada perusahaan. Proses ini dapat mengidentifikasi peluang perbaikan dan pengkinian kwalitas dan efektifitas dalam meningkatkan kinerja serta mempromosikan citra dan kredibilitas departemen internal audit.

INTRODUCTION

In accordance with The IIA's Standards, effective January 1, 2013, The chief audit executive must develop and maintain a quality assurance and improvement program that covers all aspects of the internal audit activity" (Standard 1300). As indicated in the Preface, earlier editions of this manual were designed to provide guidance and tools for the chief audit executive (CAE) in establishing and maintaining a quality program, as well as for reviewers, internal and external, in testing and assessing that program. The current edition updates and expands that guidance and enhances the models and assessment tools.

The current edition is divided into chapters based on the principal elements of the quality program required by the Standards, with a continued strong emphasis on external assessments, as summarized below:

- Chapter 1 gives the rationale for a new edition of the manual, based primarily on the updated Standards and the ongoing evolution of internal auditing. That evolution of internal auditing includes its increasing focus on business risk, closer alignment of its activities with management strategies and accountabilities, and its strong emphasis on assisting management through advisory and consulting services, while continuing to provide traditional assurance services.
- Chapter 2 outlines the external quality assessment, which should be the capstone of any activity's quality program. As specified in Standard 1312, such external assessments - ...must be conducted at least once every five years by a qualified, independent reviewer or review team from outside the organization."
- Chapter 3 is designed to expand the external quality assessment process to a wider range of internal audit (IA) activities and provide another approach to comply with Standard 1312. This approach would require a rigorous and documented quality assessment, similar to that outlined in Chapter 2, performed under the direction of the CAE. This self-assessment would then be validated by an independent evaluator with qualifications similar to those of an external quality assessment team.

- Chapter 4 sets forth the elements of an IA activity's internal quality assessment process, such as evaluation of conformity to the Standards; compliance with the charter, mission statement, objectives, and policy manual; supervision; staff development, and other steps to assess the activity's effectiveness and promote continuous improvement.
- Chapter 5 is an overview of the program segments for quality assessment and other tools, with brief guidance for their use in external and internal assessments, as well as in self-assessments (Chapter 3). Chapter 5 also serves as an overall index and control document for applying the program segments and tools.

Supplementing the five chapters of the manual are five References and four Appendices that contain practical guidance, model documents, and the various assessment tools described and referenced in the five chapters. The References and their content are as follows:

1. IIA Standards and Practice Advisories relevant to quality assessment (1300 series).
2. An overview of enterprise risk, management control, and accountability, with examples of frameworks for enterprise risk management and guidance for the alignment and integration of internal auditing.
3. Models, including a sample Model Management Control Policy, a Model Audit Committee (or similar board oversight function) Charter, a Model Internal Audit Activity Charter, and a list of internal audit measurement criteria.
4. Listings of current successful practices for internal auditing, including a brief explanation of each.
5. Sample documents that can be used as guides, such as Request for Proposal, Timelines, Engagement Letters, Quality Assessment Team Checklist, Interview Calendar, Survey Transmittal, Survey Advance Notice, Company To-do List, Letter to Audit Committee, and Invitation E-mails.

The Appendices are divided into four segments:

Appendix A - Tools for the preparation and preliminary phase of a quality assessment, which includes:

- Preparation for a quality assessment (Tool 1) and a self-assessment with independent validation (Tool 1A).
- Guidance for preparation of self-assessment documents (Tool 2) to use in preparing for quality assessments, including self-assessments with independent validation (Tool 2A), and a CAE questionnaire (Tool 3) for use in internal assessments and as a potential supplement for Tool 2 and Tool 9 in other assessments.
- Survey format (Tool 4) for customers of the IA activity and (Tool 5) for the IA activity's staff.
- Appendix B - Interview guides for board members (Tool 6), the executive to whom the CAE reports (Tool 7) and other executives of the organization (Tool 8), the CAE (Tool 9) and other activity personnel (Tool 10), and the external auditor of the organization (Tool 11).
- Appendix C - Program segments for the detailed assessment of the activity by the external assessment team or for use in self-assessments and other internal quality assessment processes (Tools 12-17).
- Appendix D - Guidance for summarizing findings and preparing for a closing conference (Tool 18), overall evaluation of the activity's conformity to the Standards (Tool 19), and reporting results, including sample reports on quality assessment (Tool 20) and self-assessment with independent validation (Tool 21).
